Digital

Digital technologies for living independently at home and in the community (Survey)

A group of people with lived experience of care and support, unpaid carers, care workers, and professionals have come together to form a Priority Setting Partnership (PSP), with the aim of identifying the most important unanswered research questions about digital technologies for living independently at home and in the community.

The first step is a public survey gathering views from people with personal and professional experience.

You do not need to be a technology expert to take part. We hoping to hear from people with different backgrounds and perspectives. We want to know about your experiences: what works well, what creates difficulties or concerns, and what questions researchers should focus on.

To find out more and complete the short survey, follow this link:What should 'digital social care' research focus on? Have your say | the Centre for Care
